Corrective Action Report Response

During an inspection on January 9, 2014, April Lazzaro with the Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ), Air Quality Division found that TADD Industries was non-compliant with maintaining records of material usage and not maintaining a 12 month rolling VOC data which is a violation of our permit.

I explained that I have only been with the company approx. 1 year and to my knowledge TADD Industries had not maintained records during that time. However, after investigating I was made aware that records had been maintained up to June of 2010 (on file) which fulfilled the permit requirements and that apparently was dropped and/or discontinued due to personnel changes through time.

After reviewing the system that was in place, TADD Industries proposes to reinstate the system as of February 1, 2014 along with all training necessary to essential personnel to accurately maintain the records.

Also we will be performing weekly in house audits for the first few months to ensure we are on track with the implementation.

Please advise with any suggestions or questions,

Sincerely,

Bob Tomlinson
