RE: Violation Notice-January 6, 2023

To whom it may concern,

EU Crematory 2

This machine had just been moved to our new facility and the recording in question was taken during a transitional period when we were still adjusting the machine. This has been adjusted and the machine is now consistently operating at a minimum operating temperature above 1600 degrees Fahrenheit.

EU Crematory 6

The ink has been replaced and additional ink cartridges are now in place and readily accessible.

EU Crematory 9

This machine had just been moved to our new facility and was in a period of adjustment. This has been mitigated and the machine is consistently operating at a minimum temperature of 1600 degrees Fahrenheit.

Mr. Elmouchi visited during the week we were literally moving our equipment to our new facility. He initially visited our old building and then traveled to our new building. Moving the magnitude of this equipment definitely led to some challenges and required adjusting machine operation, which was underway while Bob was with us that day. Adjustments have been made and we are operating per our permit, which is always our goal.

If there are further questions or concerns, please advise.

Best Regards,

Thomas E. Rood
Chief Operating Officer
