To whom it concerns,

Hi there,

As we all know our company was doing a painting job in water tower for Williamston Michigan.

The specification calls for to take off the clearcoat and as we were doing that some of the flacks fly into residential property's-on 04/26/2017

We weren't aware of the objects were flying so far away on till one of the property owner stop by and said that stuff was flying on his property we stopped immediately,

I let the owner DPW and the PROJECT engineers know about it and then we decided to power wash with lower pressure in order that not to cause any object to fly on anybody properties,

We had a walk-through ON -04/27/2017 with the owner and the engineer on the residential area & all way round that those subjects were flying to and we decided that we handpick all the pieces they were in their properties & around, and so we did on 04/27/2017&04/28/2017

I really apologize for what happened and this will never happen again and I'm glad that we were able to clean the objects on the residential properties & elsewhere.

Please let me know if there is any thing that I could do to make this better.

Thank you

Leo Lulaj
