SUBJECT: Unannounced, self-initiated inspection.		SOURCE CLASS: minor
RESOLVED COMPLAINTS:

Staff, April Lazzaro and Adam Shaffer conducted an unannounced, self-initiated inspection at Heneveld Industrial Group, which is located in the rear suite of the K & R Services facility.

We met with Chad Senneker, who gave us a very brief tour of the operations. Heneveld is a turnkey company that provides industrial parts cleaners, air filtration systems and collection equipment installation. Examples are installation of Donaldson Torit baghouses, Smog Hog electrostatic precipitators (ESP) etc. The operations that were inspected include the ESP filter cleaning operations and other non-production equipment.

The cleaning operation is internally vented and utilizes a L-360 cleaner. This appears to be exempt pursuant to Rule 285(l)(iv). In the rear of the shop was a small externally vented plasma cutting table. It shares an exhaust system with a welding hood. During a phone discussion with Mark Ashbay, General Manager it was learned that the plasma table is a non-production unit that is very rarely used. It appears that the table is exempt per Rule 285(l)(vi)(a). The welding operations are exempt per Rule 285(i).

Mr. Ashbay stated that there are no other sources of air pollution at their facility.

During the phone conversation with Mr. Ashbay on October 6, 2016 we also discussed the neighborhood fallout issues, and he indicated that their office located on Fairview was experiencing the fallout as well. Mr. Ashbay did not have any specific ideas as to who could be responsible for the fallout.

Heneveld Industrial Group was in compliance at the time of the inspection.
