Zack Durham and I arrived at the facility and asked for Mr. Bob Brzozowski, General Manager for Nyloncraft. We were told he was out but Sue Risk was able to meet with us. After giving her the Environmental Inspection pamphlet and quickly going over it, I told her that we were there to determine compliance with their Permit to Install number 255-07 for two foam application processes. Sue told us that they had removed those two processes approximately 3 years ago. She said that they mainly do injection molding of automotive parts and some parts assembly. Since the permitted processes are no longer there, I told her that I will get that permit voided and that I considered the facility to be in compliance. I don't see a need for inspections in the future unless they get a new air permit. We thanked her for her time and left.
